

Walking and storytelling and knitting

A community building project

Figur 1 Sue Reed knittingshop in Nailsworth, Jorun Barane old birch tree in Rosendal.

The dress was knitted by Sue Reed, a community artist, learner mentor at Ruskin Mill College, and town councillor. She lives in Nailsworth, England. Sue visited Aurland in 2011 and was inspired by Norwegian designs to knit a 'storytelling dress'. The dress will travel in Aurland and Nailsworth, back and forth, building community links. Nailsworth storyteller, Fiona Eadie will join Jorun Barane www.naturpedagog.no in 2012 and present a workshop called 'Stories and a Sense of Place'. Details for this event will come in April 2012. If you wish to contribute to our community building in any way, with stories, drawing, memories, knitting samples . . . please leave your ideas, your name and contact details in the storytelling book, and Jorun will contact you when we have details of the workshop. Thank you for your interest. We look forward to meeting you and sharing our stories.
